

HOMework POLICY

RATIONALE:

Staff at Vale Park Primary believe that homework forms a part of effective student learning. It should be a positive experience for students and parents. It is aimed at enhancing higher levels of student achievement by extending the time available to consolidate skills and concepts learned at school.

Through homework, students also have the opportunity to develop:

- Self-discipline
- Responsibility for their own learning
- Pride in their effort
- Satisfaction of learning
- Independent study skills
- Organisation and time management skills
- Striving for excellence
- Enhance family connection

Early Years students practising to read and write sight words

GUIDELINES

Vale Park Primary accepts that homework should:

- Be a direct means of supporting the home-school partnership by providing parents with opportunities to observe student progress and encourage positive attitudes to education
- Be a purposeful learning experience and that it may contribute in a number of ways to the development and extension of the child's learning and the school program
- Be phased in gradually and consistently as students move through junior primary to primary and the middle years
- Avoid dependence on unreasonable levels of parental assistance or resources that are not readily accessible to the student
- Be set without impinging on reasonable time for family, recreational and cultural aspirations.
- Be set from Monday to Thursday. As a general rule homework will not be set on weekends and holidays, however students are encouraged to manage their own time to complete open-ended tasks, projects, assignments etc. and may choose to work at these times.

Reading for pleasure or research

POSSIBLE HOMEWORK FORMATS may include:

- A weekly contract which includes a variety of activities
- Homework may be set each night
- Sight word and reading practice

COMMUNICATION

Each teacher will have particular systems in place that will ensure clear communication is maintained between school and home (e.g. diaries, communication book, class blogs, newsletter, emails).

An outline of some of the types of homework provided

Early Years (Reception – Yr 2) (Up to 20 minutes per day)

- Reading /sharing one or more books on a daily basis with parents/caregivers or other siblings
- Gathering information for oral talks
- Practice of the alphabet and phonics
- Practice of sight words
- Handwriting practice
- Physical activity

Primary (Years 3-5) (Up to 30 minutes per day)

- Reading on a daily basis
- Practice in Maths, Spelling and Writing
- Completing or continuing ongoing class work
- Physical activity

Middle Years (Years 6-7) (Up to 45 minutes per day)

- Reading independently on a daily basis
- Continuation of class work. i.e. Maths, Spelling
- Projects, assignments and research
- Physical activity

Parents can help by:

- Providing a dedicated place and time for homework and study where possible
- Checking diaries and discussing workload/priorities
- Encouraging and supporting their child to fulfil homework requirements
- Contacting class teachers if there are difficulties
- Not doing the homework for their child
- Allowing their child to accept responsibility for their own homework
- Discussing expectations with their child
- Providing assistance with the development of time management and organisation skills
- Providing positive, supportive encouragement

Researching and planning class assignment

Working collaboratively on a project

Students can help by:

- Accepting responsibility for the completion of homework tasks within set time frames
- Managing workload by filling in diary and setting timelines
- Advising parents/caregivers of homework expectations
- Seeking assistance from teachers or parents when difficulties arise
- Trying to do their best work
- Organising and using time well to manage home obligations, participating in dance, music and sports commitments and family activities
- Following up on comments made by teachers

CONSEQUENCES

There is an expectation that homework will be completed. If homework is not completed for any reason, at the set time, it is very important to write a note to the classroom teacher to explain the reasons. Classroom teachers may provide opportunities for students to catch up with homework.